

Royal Rage™

Setup:

Dealer shuffles the cards and deals 10 cards face up to each player. This is the player's stash pile. Undealt cards are the deal pile.

Object:

To be the first player to get rid of his or her stash pile by building stacks of card sequences from 1 to 9 in the middle of the play area.

Playing the game:

- At the start of each player's turn, the dealer deals three cards face up on the table in front of the player. This is the player's hand. (On subsequent turns, dealer will deal the new hand on top of remaining cards from the previous hand if any exist. Only the top-most card of the hand can be played.)
- Player will attempt to build stacks of consecutive cards in the middle of the play area.

- Stacks must start with a 1 (or a wild card) and build toward 9. All players can play on all stacks, and there can be a maximum of four stacks at a time. Wild cards can act as any number.
- At the start of the turn, player will have four cards facing up (three in the hand, one on the stash). These are the cards that can be played by:
  - Starting a new stack: a new stack can only be started with a 1 (or a wild card)
  - Building on an existing stack: an existing stack can be added on to by following the sequence of the stack. For example if the top card of the stack is a 3, player may add a 4 (or a wild card which acts as a 4)
- The player can play as many cards as he or she has available on each turn.
- Cards underneath other cards in the stash or the hand cannot be played until there are no cards on top of it.
- Once a stack reaches 9 cards, it is recycled and shuffled back into the deal pile.
- Turn ends once the player no longer can play any cards. At the end of the turn, the player reads and responds to the question on the last card he or she played, if any. Game play proceeds to the player on the right.
- First person to empty his or her stash pile wins. Player does not need to get rid of all the cards in the hand.
